

Cookies Policy

Cookies are small text files that are installed on your device from websites that you visit. They are stored in your browser and later sent back to enable the websites to provide contextual content. Cookies enable to recognize and distinguish your device when visiting such websites.

Websites use cookies for a variety of purposes, including to help analyze web page flow, measure promotional effectiveness, to promote trust and safety and to improve user experience when visiting the website. We also use cookies to help us compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interaction so that we can offer better site experiences and tools in the future.

The cookies we use do not contain any of your personal information. We offer certain features that are only available through the use of a "cookie". We also use cookies to allow you to enter your password less frequently during a session. You are always free to delete or deny permission for our cookies if your browser permits, although in that case you may not be able to use certain features on the website and you may be required to re-enter your password more frequently during a session. Additionally, you may encounter "cookies" or other similar devices on certain pages of our website that are placed by third parties. These third party cookies are not in our control.
